

NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1883.

TRIBUNE'S SPRAYS.

Religious summer resorts very seldom resort to religion.

When virtue melts like wax it lacks the stamina of consistency.

When there is an intense, concentrated purpose in any soul the world will hear from it.

If all institutions were bent to the good of all mankind, many existing institutions would be bent to death.

Many ministers are ready to be apostles to the Gentiles, but not to the Gentiles, the great common people.

A better tone obtains upon the stage to-day than formerly, but it needs to be much higher before a pure tone is sounded.

Undue excitement weakens character, but steady movements of growth increases the force power in an individual.

To be free is to be happy, great and wise; let the speech, press, thought and conscience be free, as God wills they shall be.

Indomitable pluck and vigor will ensure success, at least the success of admiration from all honorable opponents.

Jealousy produces uncharitableness and untruthfulness, hence the words and judgment of jealousy are never trusted.

With all appliances for good, the best man of earth has his weakness; but he also has his strength, which cannot be said of all.

There is a wonderful stretch to the future, but if true to yourself you will be equal to any occasion that may arise in that future.

To worry over a little work, and preserve equilibrium over unpaid debts, exhibits a consistency approaching laziness and dishonesty.

Freedom universal has been ordained for every man, woman and child, and no anathama maranatha of man or devils can change the decree.

The contempt of the world but deepens a man's self-respect who is conscious of being right, but the guilty need no accuser, being self-condemned.

Kindness smoothes the wrinkled face, drives sorrows from the countenance, extracts acid from the heart, and pushes rheumatism from the spirit.

Envy never forgives, never loves, is never musical at soul, never pities the fallen, the poor, the sick or dying, and never improves or makes happy any one.

Liberty is often crucified between two thieves, the church and state, but the divine "right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is as indestructible as the Eternal who made it.

The march of life in youth is with livelier step than in later years, but not so defiant, steady and true, if the individual marches in the right direction, if not he weakens so that he cannot march at all.

The bones and ashes of heretics, the dungeons, racks, thumb screws, inquisitions and star chambers employed by persecutors would make a ghastly collection; yet liberty will never have its grave.

Envy produces vilest hate, basest calumny, meanest treachery, the most terrible famine, the most frightful pestilence, the most horrid butchery, the hottest tears, the deepest sorrows, the most biting grief.

Of what avail is prayer, profession and religious service if you cheat, slander or wrong any creature? They amount to a good deal in heaping double condemnation and punishment upon the base, hypocritical performer.

Place imperfection, weakness, wickedness, meanness and rottenness before some persons and they see them clearly and are delighted, but place before them excellent qualities of worth and success and they are stone blind.

The church which consults a commercial agency in its anxiety to find the financial standing of one who has applied for church membership, makes it impossible for a poor person to travel the celestial road via its money seeking organization.

The coronation of the Czar of all the Russias, with the gorgeous pageantry, religious solemnity and imposing ceremony, witnessed by such an immense concourse of distinguished personages from all parts of the world, was insignificant compared with the crowning of humanity with the inalienable rights of liberty; the former was the tinsel of earth, the latter the gold of the Almighty.

THE STATE.

Kalamazoo citizens last week voted, 550 to 250, in favor of a city form of government.

Lockwood post G. A. R. organized at Alpena, with 40 charter members; A. W. Power, commander.

Charlotte Baptists are arranging for an excursion to Niagara falls. They had better be careful or they may have to submit to being sprinkled.

East Saginaw boasts of a young man, now only 24 years old, who was married when 16 years of age to a miss one year his junior. They are the parents of five children.

A new opera house, to cost not less than $50,000, at East Saginaw, is reported to be a sure thing. The plans have been made, the location chosen, and $30,000 already pledged.

Noble & Co.'s plaster mills, with several adjoining buildings, two miles from Grand Rapids, burned Saturday night; loss $35,000, insurance $17,000; 40 men thrown out of work.

Washington Throop, an old resident of Detroit, and for many years bookkeeper for Zach Chandler, hung himself Friday of last week. He was aged seventy, and for the past seven years has been totally blind.

Jesse Button was instantly killed at Thayer's mill, seven miles west of Big Rapids, on Saturday. He was loading lumber and his head was caught between projecting timber on cars and crushed.

A. H. Petrie & Co.'s sawmill, the schooner Geo. Boyce, and a lumber pile belonging to Blodgett & Byrne, burned at North Muskegon Thursday night of last week. Losses: Mill $30,000, insured for $20,000; schooner $15,000, no insurance; lumber $7,000, no insurance.

The nitro-glycerine factory of the Roberts Torpedo Company, north of Bay City, exploded Friday afternoon of last week, smashing the building to splinters, and tearing Joseph Shamburg, the only man about the place, to pieces. The splinters were scattered over several acres.

Detroit police are making a vigorous fight against the pool rooms of that city. The Free Press requests them not to forget, in their crusade against the pool rooms, that there are numerous gambling halls in active operation, and charges that during the past six months the proprietors of these gathered in $120,000.

A Mrs. John Simpson, of Kalamazoo, is 84 years old, has lived in that village 50 years, and during that time has read every number of the Kalamazoo Gazette, walks about town as spry as most people and transacted her own business. During the past year, besides doing her housework, she has pieced and quilted nine quilts, knit 22 pairs of socks and 18 pairs of mittens.

There were fifty-one deaths in Detroit last week of which number eighteen were under five years of age.

It is stated that President Ledyard, of the Michigan Central railroad, heartily favors the discontinuance of the Sunday traffic on railroads.

The Senate bill to provide for taking the census and statistics of Michigan next year, was favorably reported upon in the House, on Saturday.

The Detroit Free Press says it is reported that the veteran journalist, Col. Fred Morley, will shortly take the management of the Post and Tribune.

Peter Olavsson, a Swede, accompanied by his wife and six children, arrived in Detroit last week on his way to Presque Isle, where he was to obtain employment, but was deserted by the agent who agreed to take him there. The family was sent to the county house, and the father, who is an able bodied man, was seeking work in that city.

Of the 99 counties in Iowa, there is not one that is not traversed by one or more railroads.

Worth Remembering.

Now that the good times are again upon us, it is worth remembering that no one can enjoy the pleasantest surroundings in bad health. There are hundreds of miserable people going about to-day with disordered stomach, liver or kidneys, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the medicines they have ever tried.

A Peerless Perfume.

The refreshing aroma of Floreston Cologne, and its lasting fragrance, make it a peerless perfume for the toilet.

What Everybody Wants.

Is a reliable medicine that never does any harm and that prevents and cures disease by keeping the stomach in order, the bowels regular, and the kidney and liver active. Such a medicine is Parker's Ginger Tonic. It relieves every case, and has cured thousands. See other column.—Tribune.
